Report of Water Commissioners

The income from the Water Department has always been turned over to the town, and treated as a part of the general funds. When the new reservoir was decided on, it seemed only fair that the ultimate cost of construction, as well as the maintenance of the system, should be paid from the water revenue, and thus only those who had the benefit of the service would pay the bill, and there would be no increase in taxes to residents outside the water precincts.

Accordingly the water rate was raised from six to ten dollars per year. From this income we have paid the bonds which came due this year, also interest on the total debt, the whole amounting to $3232.50.

All bills have been paid, and the entire area has been enclosed with a substantial wire fence, protecting from invasion from stray cattle, picnic parties, or any other source of likely contamination. It was deemed essential that the system should be protected by a fence, to guard against a recurrence of the principal trouble with the old reservoir, which arose from the inability to control conditions along the source of supply, which ran through five or more miles of open farming country.

We have had the usual number of repairs and replacements, and one serious and expensive break in the street main.

We found one five-inch pipe on private property which had burst, and been running for an undetermined length of time.

An extension has been laid with 395 feet of copper pipe.

As the water works are twenty-eight years old, it would not be surprising if the cost of upkeep should increase. Probably some of the one-inch pipes from the main to the individual services should be dug up and renewed, not because they are worn out or leak, but they become filled with corrosion and vegetable matter, and likely are the cause of sediment found in some sections, particularly at the end of a line.

Once more we advise property owners to watch the reading of the meter, and if too much water is being used consult a plumber. Don't jump to the conclusion the meter is wrong. Manufacturers tell us it is almost an unknown thing for a meter to over-register.

The number of bedside calls this year has increased over the year 1931-1932. A varied program of welfare work has been under way by the nurse.

Wilton epidemic of chicken pox and grippe were comparatively small. A few cases of whooping cough have been diagnosed among isolated pre-school children. Some temporary exclusions were made in Grades I and II until cough subsided or physician's examination disclosed a favorable diagnosis.

Respectfully submitted,

EDNA J. GILBERT, R. N.

REPORT OF TRUSTEES

The work of the library is going along uneventfully. Needed repairs in painting and other lines were made last summer.

Mr. Swallow, our efficient janitor for several years, felt obliged to give up his duties last spring but we were fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Foster, who continues the work of caring for our beautiful building and grounds in a most satisfactory manner.

The income from several of our funds has been lessened materially and in a few instances has stopped entirely. We hope this discontinuance will be only temporary but until the corporations in which we have invested feel general business improvement our purchases of books will be necessarily curtailed.

The librarian reports an increased patronage, which is very gratifying.

Respectfully submitted,

THE TRUSTEES.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD

The School Board presents its report for the school year ending July 1, 1933, and its budget for the year ending July 1, 1934.

This year we have been continuing the rural schools at Abbott Hill and Wilton Center and have been transporting on routes from Intervale, Kimball Heights and Davisville to the village and have also maintained the route from West Wilton to Wilton Center. The village school has been continued with the usual first six grades in six rooms with a teacher in charge of each grade. The seventh and eighth grades have been handled by one teacher who instructs in English, Mathematics and History. The other subjects in the seventh and eighth grades, namely, unit of geography and general science and either domestic arts or mechanic arts have been taught by high school teachers.

In the high school we have continued the same curriculum which has been in effect for a number of years past, namely, academic course, domestic arts course and a science course. The standard set up of subjects is as follows:

English	History	Mathematics	Latin
English	French	Mathematics	Latin
English	French	Mathematics	Chemistry
English	History	Economics	Physics

In the case of academic students they take two years of Latin and also have a choice of taking third year of French in their senior year or of taking additional years of Latin. In the domestic arts course, chemistry is eliminated and Latin and one or two years of mathematics and four years of domestic arts is substituted. In the science course Latin is eliminated and in place of these two units a year of shop work and a year of mechanical drawing is given.

We made several changes in our high school teaching staff this year and feel that these changes are in the right direction. It is evidenced by the much better marks we are obtaining from the six weeks marking period examinations. As commented in previous reports, we found that while the average class room performance was good, still the pupil was not keeping the subject matter in mind and would make either a partial or complete failure when the subject was given in examination as a whole. The present system of marking gives the daily recitations a value of two-thirds and the examination a value of one-third. We find this year that the examination marks are almost identical with the daily class room marks, showing that the pupils are remembering the subjects instead of merely memorizing them for a short period.

This year attention seems to be given by every community towards economy in the management of their affairs. It is realized that the tax burden is tremendous and presents the greatest problem to be met by the present generation. Debts incurred at high prices must apparently be met by earnings at low values. The obligations incurred in the past will have to be taken care of, although possibly at a slower rate of payment than originally planned. It will also be necessary to keep ordinary operating expenses at a minimum. The school constitutes the greatest item of total expenses of the Town and we have therefore given a great deal of attention to see what economy could be made with the least disturbance of our school program. We feel that the prime need is to keep in full effect the most able teaching we can afford in the first six to eight grades. It is during this period that a child learns to read, write and figure and where their habits of study are formed. With adequate preparation in these grades further progress depends more upon their personal inclination than what the teacher can offer. We feel therefore that our field for economy lies mostly in the operation of the high school and the elimination of all extras and frills.

One matter which is of immediate importance in our school finance is that, due to the increase in our equalized valuation which has been brought about in recent years by the addition of saving bank deposits together with general lowering of school costs, we cannot look forward any longer to State Aid. The equalized valuation is $2,445,058.00 and $5.00 tax on this comes to $12,225.29. This item of course refers to cost of grade schools only. Our actual cost ending July 1, 1931 was $18,316.18, our budget for the present year, namely 1932-33 was $15,244.00. There are a number of items in this budget which the State does not approve leaving the net approved budget $13,364.19. If we reduce our cost therefore even slightly, we will be below the point where we will receive State Aid. In the past, we have found that many of our activities and salaries could be carried along without additional cost to the Town because we obtained State Aid for them and if we economized we would merely be saving money for the State rather than for ourselves. Today, however, it must be borne in mind that every dollar we can save in the grade schools will actually be saved by the Town. With this thought in mind we have planned in our budget to close the Abbott Hill School and Wilton Center School. In general, it is an appropriate time to do this, as we only expect to have five or six pupils next year at Abbott Hill and would have to close it in any event and transport them to the village. The hard road has been completed so that the old time difficulty is now eliminated. We are at present paying transportation which is not allowed by the State between West Wilton and Wilton Center and at slight additional expense we could have all of these children brought to the village. We expect to obtain all our transportation for less than we have been paying, so that allowing for a fair sum for these extra routes, we will save about $1500.00.

In the village school proper we can probably make some economies both in salaries and rearrangement of studies in the high school, and believe therefore that by the saving of salaries in our rural schools and the economies in the village school that the $15,000.00 we have budgeted will be ample for salaries, this comparing with $17,350.00 budgeted for the present year.

We have been conducting a nursing program for quite a few years past. The nurse of course actually does little direct work on the children, the work being largely of clerical and administrative character. It seems to us that we can conduct a health program very adequately without employing a nurse regularly. We are obliged, by law, of course, to have the children examined by a doctor and we then keep an analysis of these examinations. We can also arrange to hold clinics either here, in Nashua, or Concord, for those requiring special attention and can do this either under the supervision of a doctor or by employing a nurse for a day or two when needed.

We will have a deficit by the end of the school year of about $1300.00, this of course being treated as old bills. We have allowed $500.00 in our budget to take care of some of these rather than try to charge it all off this year.

We feel that it would be entirely in order to hold our payment of principal of debt to $2000.00, the same as was done last year, refinancing the $3000.00 note due January 1, 1934, and replacing this with a note of $3000.00 due January 1, 1938.

The budget as outlined above shows a saving of approximately $3000.00, or a 10% reduction from last year's budget. We have given very careful consideration to incidental expenses and supplies and our estimates on these are therefore about as low as can be safely figured. We have a $700.00 item of insurance, compared to nothing last year and we also cannot count on the $941.00 of State Aid. The savings which we have already discussed have offset these differences and have also been sufficient to make the 10% reduction in the total budget.

In making up our $15,000.00 item for salaries, we have not made any reduction in the salaries of individual teachers. We made a reduction last year of $50.00 per year for grade teachers and $100.00 a year in the high school. We believe this is a matter for discussion and definite vote by the Town at our school meeting.

The School Board wishes to express their appreciation for the great interest which has been taken in school affairs during the past year and which we believe has resulted in considerable progress. The School staff have been most energetic both in the regular school work as well as in the outside school activities.

ELIZABETH M. PIERCE,
EDWARD J. ABBOTT,
ROBERT G. RING,
School Board.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

---

To the School Board and Citizens of Wilton:

I respectfully submit my tenth annual report as follows:

Education For Living

An intelligent view of education at any period is impossible without proper consideration of the general social economy of which it is a part. "The American Dream" has always included a social order in which everyone should have an opportunity to follow a useful vocation by which to earn an income sufficient to permit a life of decency and comfort and leave enough leisure time for the enjoyment of the finer things of life.

The country has in recent years passed rapidly from the days of abundant free land and predominantly agricultural occupations into an economic order which is predominantly industrial and commercial. The early ideal of rugged individualism applied to the achievement of material success has, consequently, begun to be modified by the necessity for a greater degree of cooperation in the achievement of cultural as well as material success.

The fact that we have now come to a critical point in this development of the social-economic order is not a reason for despair. The problem before us has two aspects, first to control science and its machines and the power they have given us, and secondly to use this power as a means of building a culture that will give beauty and nobility and meaning to life. Along with their vast resources in materials and power, the American people have potential resources of intelligence, character and determination that will enable them gradually to evolve a more complete realization of the "American Dream."

Traditionally, American schools have been conducted on the theory that the main purpose was to impart factual knowledge and to preserve racial heritage. As a consequence, the schools came to be instruments for maintaining a static society, and teachers were expected to keep themselves apart from social problems and political affairs. More recently, with the rapid increase in high schools to a point where secondary education is sought by all, and society no longer static but undergoing rapid changes, this theory has begun to be modified by a realization that what is needed is ability to interpret knowledge, make critical judgments and carry out policies. Educational procedure must aim to stimulate intellectual curiosity and to develop abilities, attitudes and appreciations which will enable boys and girls to contribute to social progress. They must be taught how to recognize a problem when it arises, how to secure and evaluate data, to keep the mind open for further evidence which may modify conclusions, and to think independently and fearlessly.

Youths are, normally, interested in the problems of the day. The school ought not longer to hold aloof from the realities and the live issues of the day. The American traditions, aspirations, and conditions of life, economic, political, moral, aesthetic, must become more generally subjects for study in school. We know that slum living, in country as well as in city, has undesirable educative effects. We know that exploitation and greed must be curbed. The rapid development of machines which multiply enormously our productive power, and the relatively slow adaptation of society to new conditions, have brought us a stern warning. Instead of teaching youth that the chief goal is to improve their personal powers to gain material success, we must also train their capacity for intelligent cooperation with others in a common struggle against poverty, disease, credulity, and low standards of appreciation and enjoyment. Only in respect to methods of thought and judgment should the individualistic aim be retained, and there it should be intensified. Yet we must cultivate a spirit of tolerance. Social problems cannot be solved by minds hampered with personal, racial, sectional or religious prejudices.

Education needs to go forward in these critical days. It must not be slowed up. No democratic society has ever stood without universal education. Facing, as we do now, the necessity for reducing costs, we need a scale of values. Keeping in mind always the best interests of the children, we need to answer such questions as these: Are we educating for the world in which these children are to live their lives or for a world that no longer exists? Is there dead wood in our courses of study? Are we trying to force upon our cosmopolitan group of pupils courses prepared a century ago for the academically minded who then went to college preparatory school? Have we now in the courses of study the most vital material? Are we trying to teach the same subject matter to all pupils without regard to individual differences? Are we utilizing reasonably and not excessively the advantages of extra-curricular activities? Are we doing permanent injury to some through over-emphasis on competitive athletics, and neglecting others who need a well-rounded physical education program to aid them in developing strong, healthy bodies?

School Organization

There has been no change in the staff of the grade and rural schools since last year. In the High School the following changes have taken place: Mr. Harlan E. Atherton has replaced Mr. Lewis J.

Streeter as headmaster. Mr. Atherton is a graduate of Yale University and will receive his master's degree at the University of New Hampshire at the coming June Commencement. Mr. Atherton had had seven years teaching experience including five as headmaster of the Charlestown, New Hampshire, High School. Mr. Clifford A. Folkins replaced Mr. Eugene Clark in charge of the Mechanic Arts work and has also taken over the Physical Education work for boys including coaching. He had had one year's teaching experience following his preparation at Wentworth Institute and Fitchburg Teachers' College summer session. Miss F. Gladys Morton has replaced Miss Margaret Potter in the Junior High School, taking charge of the Physical Education for girls also. Miss Morton is a graduate of Radcliffe College and had had six years teaching experience.

In order to reduce costs it was decided to dispense with one teacher in the high school and with the music supervisor; and also to reduce the salaries of the regular teachers. These reductions in most cases amount to $100 in the high school and $50 in the grade schools.

Supervision

In previous reports I have described the routine work of my office and have spoken frequently of the testing program. The work of the past year has followed similar lines and the results of the tests have been sent to the parents as was done last year.

Improvement in teaching through the use of standard tests is well illustrated by the experience we have had in oral reading, systematic records of which have been kept since the fall of 1927. The test used consists of a series of five stories of uniform length and difficulty, appropriate to the grade in which they are used, standardized for the number of seconds it takes pupils to read them, and also for the number of errors made.

These five tests are given at equal intervals during the school year, spaced so that the final test comes the latter part of May. The tests are given to pupils individually by their own teacher, who thus has the results immediately available to guide her in adjusting her teaching to the difficulties of each pupil.

The following summary of results is for the Supervisory District as a whole, with from seventy to ninety children in each grade.

First Grade: Median number of seconds required in May, 1928, 70; in May, 1932, 50; standard score, 78. Median number of errors made in May, 1928, 9; in May, 1932, 3; standard score, 5.

Second Grade: Median number of seconds in May, 1928, 130; in May, 1932, 90; standard score, 112. Median number of errors in May, 1928, 10; in May, 1932, 4; standard score, 6.

Third Grade: Median number of seconds in May, 1928, 87; in May, 1932, 57; standard score, 63. Median number of errors in May, 1928,  $4\frac{1}{2}$ ; in May, 1932,  $2\frac{1}{2}$ ; standard score, 3.

The High School

Of the twenty-five pupils who graduated in June, 1932, three have entered the University of New Hampshire and one Cornell College in Iowa, on certificate. Reports of their work from the colleges so far are favorable. One has entered preparatory school, two have entered training in hospitals, four are taking post-graduate work in one or more subjects in the local high school and one at Nashua. The remaining thirteen are not pursuing further study and are for the most part without regular employment.

I refer to Mr. Atherton's report as headmaster for information regarding the current school year.

The report of the School Nurse, Mrs. Gilbert, covering the health program follows this report. The report of the medical inspection conducted by Drs. Rice and Powers with the assistance of Mrs. Gilbert is as follows:

Defects Found	Corrected
Tonsils 79	23
Adenoids 5	1
Vision 53 (1 child twice, June, Sept.)	27
Thyroid 3	Improved 1
Obese 5	Dieting 2

Pediculosis 3	3
Hearing 3	1
Nose bleeds 2	2
Cervical glands 1	Under treatment

In closing this, my tenth year of service in this Supervisory Union, I wish to express my belief that our schools have made progress and to acknowledge the interest and cooperation of the parents and citizens generally, as well as of the School Board and teachers, which has made possible whatever advancement there has been. I trust that these conditions will continue to prevail and that the standards may be maintained in spite of the effects of economic conditions.

Respectfully submitted,

VERNON S. AMES,
Superintendent of Schools.

HEADMASTER'S REPORT

To the Superintendent and School Board of Wilton:

I herewith submit my first report as Headmaster of Wilton High School.

The high school opened last fall with a registration of 133 in the senior high and 59 in the junior high. The enrollment is slightly lower at the present time after the normal changes occurring during the school year. Attendance during the first half year has been normal with an excellent record during the fall and unavoidable absences during the season of illness in midwinter. The record of tardiness has been poor, with a decrease in the amount of tardiness during the winter months, however, due to the combined efforts of pupils, teachers and parents. Many of our young people need training in the efficient habit of being punctual. This is being attempted at school and all help from parents is greatly appreciated.

In this year's schedule the teachers have carried an unusually heavy load, carrying on with a force of seven the work which was done by eight last year. In spite of this, work started smoothly in the fall and a good standard of instruction has been maintained. The teaching force has worked hard with a good spirit of cooperation. Discipline has been good with the behavior of pupils steadily improving during the school year. A campaign on keeping the school-rooms cleaner and neater has met with success.

Of last year's graduates, three are enrolled at the University of New Hampshire, one at Cornell College in Iowa, one at Phillips Andover, one is doing post graduate work at Nashua High School, and four are pursuing post graduate studies at Wilton High School.

The extra-curricula activities of the school have been designed to include every pupil. Physical education classes started with the opening of school. This work, including corrective and developing exercises, drills, and games, is optional for juniors and seniors but is required of all other pupils whose health and physical condition permit. The opportunities afforded by the splendid gymnasium for this work are a distinct asset to the boys and girls of Wilton.

Five clubs have been established this year with membership in one required, except for those engaged in varsity basketball who may take part in one club activity if they wish. These organizations include the Social, Home Economics, Boys' Cooking, Dramatic, and Music Clubs.

In keeping with modern trends in schools and colleges, athletic participation is extended to as many pupils as possible. The effects of group athletic competition in self reliance, responsibility, initiative, self control, and ideals of honorable sportsmanship are so valuable that as large a group as possible should share these benefits in addition to the more expert players who are engaged in inter-school contests.

Athletic direction has been carried on in an efficient, conscientious manner by Mr. Folkins. Tennis matches were played in the fall with Milford. The boys' and girls' basketball teams have not made impressive records in victories. The conduct of players in contests, however, has been clean and sportsmanlike. Interclass teams have played afternoon games on regular schedule for the championship of the school. This activity has furnished much recreation and benefit to a large group of boys and girls. Much appreciation is felt in the school for the kindness of Mr. Whiting in extending the use of the "Flat."

The annual Hallowe'en Ball and Senior Play were successful ventures, though attendance of the public was not quite as large as usual. The play entitled "The Whoofenpoof," was especially well presented by the senior class and reflected splendid coaching on the part of Mr. Rohrbough.

Weekly assemblies have been held through the year with a variety of programs administered by different classes and school organizations.

The domestic arts girls under the direction of Mrs. Shea have served hot lunches at noon to those unable to go home for the noon meal.

Last fall a fine courtesy was extended to the faculty by the Wilton High School Alumni Association in the form of a reception in which new teachers had the opportunity of becoming acquainted with parents.

I wish to extend thanks for the kind assistance and cooperation shown me by teachers, superintendent, school board, and townspeople. These kindnesses have assisted me materially and pleasantly in undertaking the direction of a new school.

Respectfully submitted,

HARLAN E. ATHERTON.

SUMMARY OF SCHOOL HEALTH WORKING PLAN BY THE NURSE, SCHOOL YEAR 1932-1933.

A daily routine visit to Wilton village school where check up of absent pupils is made, by telephone or inquiry mostly, to save time. Personal supervision of pupils and classes up to Grade VI, first aid after injury and follow up dressings of minor injuries, treatment and dressings of cases of Impetigo where bandaging is possible and child need not be excluded from school, occasional supervision of Mrs. Pittman's special exercise group are all part of the routine morning visit.

Vocations and health habits are discussed with pupils and teachers. Pupils with severe colds or possible suspects of chicken pox, whooping cough, or grippe, an occasional serious injury, fainting, severe nose bleed, or child infected with pediculi, scabies or impetigo, or an objectionally dirty child is taken home by the nurse at the end of her visit.

Assistance to physicians during school health supervision physical examination which was completed in October this year, weighing and measuring, October, February and June, vision tests, records, and class room work, informal talks on handkerchiefs, safety first, clean teeth, clean scalps, colds, clean hands, etc. in primary and grammar grades, and baby care with Chase Doll, Grades VII and VIII.

Calls on physician, and family, conferences with Mr. Ames in behalf of health and behavior problems, and exclusions, home calls for purpose of clinic correction of defective vision, tonsils, adenoids cardiac, pulmonary or undernourished pupils are accomplished in full session periods.

Report of defects found and corrections made are incorporated in Superintendent's Report. Clinics held and visits made in District Nursing Report.

Respectfully submitted,

EDNA J. GILBERT, R. N.
